EVENING NEWS.

FIRST EDITION.

Wednesday Afternoon, Jan. 21, '63.

[TELEGRAPHED FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

North Carolina Legislature.

RALEIGH, Jan. 20.

Nearly all of the members were present to day.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock.

The following bills and resolutions were introduced and referred:

By Mr. White, a bill to incorporate the Vestelsford Toll Bridge Company, on the Catawba River.

By Mr. Smith, of Macon, a resolution to confer with the Governor of Georgia for the purchase of Cotton Card Machinery for the State of North Carolina.

The appointment of Justices of the Peace was postponed to Saturday.

In the House, presentments of grieviances from the citizens of Polk and Cleaveland counties in relation to the refussl of certain persons to accept Confederate notes, and protesting against the exemption of Justices of the Peace under 45 years of age, as well as Militia Officers, which were handed to the Speaker by Judge Saunders and referred.

Mr. Shepperd introduced a resolution to prevent the spread of Small Pox.

Mr. Hendry, of Bertie, introduced a resolution censuring the Richmond Enquirer and other ill tempered journals, in and out of the State, for slandering North Carolina, which were made the order for Thursday next.

Mr. Peebles presented a bill making Confederate notes a legal tender. F.

From the United States.

FREDERICKSBURG, January 19.

The Philadelphia Inquirer, of the 17th, has been received. A despatch, dated Cairo, 16th, says the ram Switzerland had arrived there from the squadron, and brings the news of the surrender, on Sunday, of the Arkansas Post, on the Arkansas river, 100 miles from the mouth, to the land and naval forces under Porter and McClernand. The rebel loss was 500 killed and wounded and 5,000 to 7,000 prisoners.

A despatch from Fort Henry, dated the 16th, fears that the train whrch left Pittsburg Landing for Corrinth on Sunday, under escort of 1,600 men, will be captured by the rebels. The latter were receiving artillery to blockade the river.

PETERSBURG, Jan. 19.

The Herald, of the 17th, has been received. It contains President Davis' late message in full, and says it is of more than ordinary importance, and evidently is assured by conscious security which has hitherto characterized any manifesto which has eminated from the rebel Executive, and breathes out determination and defiance not justified by what meets the public eye.

The Alabama captured two more vessels—one, the Parker Cook, of Boston, Nov. 30, near St. Domingo, was burnt, the other having a British cargo, was allowed to proceed, but the vessel was bonded.

An arrival from New Orleans says the Harriet Lane has been sent to sea. Farragut has sent the Brooklyn, Scotia and other vessels to recapture her if possible.

From Richmond.

RICHMOND, Jan. 20.

There is no truth in the report of recognition, notwithstanding some well informed persons assert the contrary.

All is quiet at Fredericksburg.

It is reported that Gen. Foster succeeds Burnside.

A movement will be made in the Assembly of Virginia to put down speculation and extortion.

From the West.

MOBILE, Jan. 19.

The Mobile Advertiser & Register has the following, dated Grenada, Jan. 18:

Twenty-four prisoners, from Illinois, Indiana and Ohio regiments, captured on the Mississippi, opposite White River, arrived here to-day They confirm the report that Generals Wyman, Still and Smith, were killed before Vicksburg, and represent that great dissatisfaction prevails among the Western troops with extreme hatred of the East and desire peace.

Sherman was under arrest for disobedience of orders in making the attack on Vicksburg prematurely.

These prisoners surrendered to two of Starks' cavalry. They says the Western troops would all desert if possible.

The New York Herald of the 17th expresses fear that the California steamers Champion and America have been captured by the Alabama, as they are over due by six days.

The Yankee report of the capture of Arkansas Post is not credited. It was gotten up for effect by New York stock jobbers and to influence European capitalists.

☞ The London Punch has a very excellent cut representing Jeff. Davis and Lincoln at a game of cards, on a barrel of gunpowder. Old Abe, with furious aspect and hair erect like the quills of the fretful porcupine, has his last card—the Black Ace—raised on high, whilst Jeff, with elbow on the board and the corner of his card resting on his nose, gives his antagonist a most wicked leer from under the front piece of his cap, appearing to say: Play on old fellow; the last can't help you out of the scrape.

New England's Rights Considered—Her Undue Preponderance Objected to.

A New York paper, taking up a subject that is receiving general attention in the North—the propriety of leaving New England "out in the cold"—says:

The area of the New England States, leaving out Maine, is 33,273 square miles, that of New York is 47,000. All the northern and eastern portion of Maine is a wild, mountainous, and inhospitable region, incapable of settlement, so that the total arable surface of New England does not exceed the cultivable area of New York. Now, we wish to put the question (we put it merely for illustration,) what objection is there to obliterating all the internal boundaries which distinguish the several New England States on the map, and consolidating them all into a single State? What right (bear in mind, we ask the question only to illustrate an argument) have three millions of population residing in New England to twelve Senators in Congress, when nearly four millions residing in New York are entitled to only two? This immense preponderance of political power, out of all reasonable proportion to its area and population, is held only by the tenure of the State rights which that section is madly attempting to undermine and overthrow. The stability of this disproportionate and enormous power rests wholly on the sacredness of the old State boundaries which New England influence is attempting to shake off and sweep away, and which it has already succeeded in destroying in Virginia. It is a favorite saw of the radicals that "revolutions never go backward," and if this work of demolishing State rights and obliterating old State boundaries is to proceed, it is one of the likeliest things in the world that this fanatical and destructive device should return to plague the inventors. If they are going to roll up the Constitution as a piece of obsolete "sheepskin" (this is Mr. Beecher's tasteful and reverent epithet,) and return to first principles, why may not New York insist that New England shall take a dose of its own medicine? If the principle of human equality is to be rigorously carried out in the spirit of a doctrinaire, without regard to race or color, why not also without regard to the invisible mathematical lines which form State boundaries? Why in short, is not a New Yorker as good as a Yankee? New England has one Senator in Congress to every 261,000 inhabitants, while New York has only one to 1,940,000, making the political value of a New Englander very nearly seven and a half times as great as that of a New Yorker.

PROSPECTUS OF THE CHARLESTON MERCURY

A POLITICAL, COMMERCIAL, AND LITERARY NEWSPAPER

PUBLISHED DAILY AND TRI-WEEKLY

THE MERCURY gives daily reports of the Market and Marine Intelligence in Charleston, and of Charleston commerce in the leading seaports of the world. The Weekly Prices Current is made up with much care, and from the most reliable sources. Its connection with the "Associated Press" insures the latest intelligence by Telegraph and the earliest news by Steamers from Europe. It has an able and accomplished Correspondent in London (a gentleman connected with the editorial staff of the London Times,) and regular Correspondents in New York, Washington, Key West and Havana. The monthly New York Fashion Letters and weekly letters on Life in Washington are additional attractions in favor of its lady readers. Its literary notices, from the pen of a gentleman who occupies perhaps the highest position among the literary men of the South, are discriminating and comprehensive.—Attention is paid to all matters of general concern, especially those in reference to the Planting and Agricultural interest, and to the current news of the day. Great care is taken that nothing shall appear in its columns which should be excluded from the family circle.

The political creed of the MERCURY consists in the principles of the Democratic Party, as laid down in the Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions of 1798 and 1799—the Sovereignty of the States; a strict construction of the Federal Constitution by the General Government, the agent of the States; and an economical Administration of the Government. Its policy is the Union of the Southern States in maintaining their rights.

Payment of State Bounty Due Deceased Soldiers.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, N. C., ADJUTANT GEN'S OFFICE, Raleigh, Oct. 17, 1862.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 9.

The following regulations are published for the information of those persons wishing to draw bounty of deceased soldiers, in accordance with an ordinance of the Convention ratified the 22d day of February, 1862:

REGULATIONS.

1. The payment of bounty to the representatives of deceased soldiers is based upon the certificate of the commanding officer of the company, who will state the time of the enlistment of the soldier, the date of his decease in service, the amount of bounty already paid by the State, and the company and regiment to which he belonged.

2. The claimant will make affidavit before a magistrate that he or she is the next kin to the deceased, according to the provisions of the foregoing ordinance of the Convention, and that there is no other person entitled to make claim. The affidavit of the claimant must be sustained by that of one disinterested witness, that the facts stated are correct within his own knowledge and that he has no interest in the claim. The magistrate administering the oath will certify to the credibility of the the witness, and the clerk of the County Court will certify, under seal, that he is an authorized and acting magistrate.

3. If the claimant or claimants be minors, payment will be made to the guardian, upon the production of the proper certificate under the seal of the Court, of his appointment and the sufficiency of his bond—the claim to be proved by him as in other cases.

4. A bounty of fifty dollars, deducting the bounty that may have been previously paid, is due to all persons who may have volunteered for three years or the war, and to all persons mustered into or continued in service under the provisions of the Conscription Act.

Public Meeting in Monroe.

For the Daily Bulletin.

At a meeting of the citizens of Monroe on the 10th instant, called to express their respect for the memory of their fellow-townsmen whose deaths have resulted from the pending war, D. A. Covington, Esq., was called to the Chair and H. M. Houston appointed Secretary.

After some appropriate remarks by the Chairman the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That D. F. Irby, who was a private in the 48th Regiment N. C. T and who died from wounds received in the battles at Richmond; J. E. Delarme, Orderly Sergeant in Co. A, 45th N. C. Regiment, who died near Winchester, Va., from the effects of exposure and hard marching, were in every respect worthy of our confidence and esteem, and that they proved themselves to be good soldiers and patriots in the battles near Richmond and elsewhere.

Resolved, That James M. Key, a private in the said company, who was mortally wounded at the battle of Sharpsburg, had won the love and esteem of his comrades in arms and showed himself to be a brave and true friend of liberty and his country.

Resolved, That in the death of R. H. Stitt, 1st Lieutenant in said company, which took place in Richmond on the 27th December last, and which was caused by the exposure of camp life and the severe duties required of his regiment, the whole community mourn their loss, regarding it as a public calamity and feel that language is too meagre to express their sentiments on this sad occasion.

Resolved, That in our sincere opinion no regiment in our army has done more service or sustained greater loss, since its organization in April last, than that to which our lamented friend above named belonged, and that but few have done and suffered so much.

Resolved, That although our friends M. A. Helms, A B. Helms and C. A. Rogers were not strictly citizens of our town, yet having lived amongst us and won our highest regard and all of them having fallen in battle, we deem it proper to include their names in this list of heroes and patriots and to express our regret at the sad calamity which has deprived us of their cherished companionship.

Resolved, That we further hereby publicly express our sincere appreciation of the indomitable courage and patriotism of each and all the noble men who have fallen either by disease or in battle, from this county, whose names we are sorry to say are not at this time in our possession.

On motion, that these proceedings be published in the Western Democrat and the Bulletin; also, that copies of the proceedings be sent to the families of the deceased soldiers.

H. M. HOUSTON, Secretary.

GEN. BRAGG'S ADDRESS TO HIS ARMY.

Gen Bragg has issued the following complimentary address to his brave troops:

SOLDIERS OF THE ARMY OF TENNESSEE:—Your gallant deeds have won the admiration of your General, your Government and your country. For myself, I thank you, and am proud of you; for them I tender you the gratitude and praise you so nobly won.

In a campaign of less than one month, in the face of winter, your achievements have been unparalleled. You have captured more than ten thousand prisoners, taken and preserved thirty pieces of artillery and seven-thousand small arms, in addition to many thousand destroyed. You have besides captured eight hundred wagons, loaded chiefly with supplies, which have been destroyed or brought safely to your lines, and in pitched battles you have driven the enemy before you, inflicting a loss at least three to one greater than you have sustained

In retiring to a stronger position without molestation from a superior force, you have left him a barren field in which to bury his hosts of slain, and to rally and recuperate his shattered ranks. Cut off from his Government both by rail and telegraph, and deprived of supplies by the interruption of his communications, we shall yet teach him a severe lesson for the rashness of penetrating a country so hostile to his cause. Whilst the infantry and artillery defy him in front, our invincible cavalry will assail him in flank and rear, until we goad him to another advance only to meet another signal defeat.

Your General deplores in common with you, the loss of your gallant comrades, who have fallen in our recent conflicts. Let their memories be enshrined in your hearts, as they will ever be tenderly cherished by their countrymen. Let it be yours to avenge their fate, and proudly to emulate their deeds. Remember that your face is to the foe, and that on you rests the defence of all that is dear to freedom.

Soldiers! the proudest reflection of your General's life is to be known as the commander of an army so brave and invincible as you have proven. He asks no higher boon than to lead such men to victory. To share their trials, and to stand or fall with them will be the crown of his ambition.

The U. S. steamer Columbia, commander Couthney, 12 officers and 28 men, arshore at Masonboro' Inlet, surrendered to Col. Lamb yesterday. Col. Lamb kept off four blockaders that had come up to the Columbia's assistance. The prisoners are expected here to-day.

Since writing the above we have received the following official particulars of the capture of the Columbia:

FORT FISHER, Jan. 17.

The U. S. Steamer Columbia, carrying 7 guns, Commander Coutchney, grounded off Masonboro Sound on Wednesday night last. On Thursday the Commanding Officer of Fort Fisher carried one gun and a detachment of cavalry and infantry to capture her. On Friday at 7 o'clock, A. M., two shots were fired when the steamer hoisted a white flag. About 40 prisoners have been taken. After the surrender several blockaders came up, but were promptly driven off. But one boat was left on the ship, and owing to the delay caused by the firing of the shore battery which did not perceive or respect the white flag, all the prisoners were not landed till to-day, with some valuable stores.

The Columbia is a splendid Iron Steamer, built to run the blockade, and was captured by the Tuscarora, on her first trip to Charleston. This is her first cruise as a War Steamer.—Wilmington Journal.

Our Legislature.

Having secured the services of a competent gentleman to act as a Telegraphic Reporter of the Proceedings of the North Carolina Legislature, a daily synopsis will be found every morning under our telegraphic news head.

The report of yesterdays proceedings indicate action—something good mixed with evil, such as will be regarded by the intelligence of the country as supremely ridiculous.

The Yankee Character Illustrated.

The following is an extract from a private letter of an officer in our army, at Fredericksburg:

"Four or five Yankees brought a sick negro to the banks of the river t'other day and forced him into the water, telling him to swim or die; the negro begged hard, but the Yankees were inexorable. One of them gave him a plank, however, and the poor wretch, after pulling off his clothes, was forced into the river. Our pickets threw him a rope, but as he was staggering out of the water they discovered that he was frightfully covered with small pox. In their momentary horror at this discovery they let the rope drop and the poor wretch fell back and was drowned. While struggling in the water the Yankees cried out, "Take your d—d nigger; he is worth $2,000 to you and nothing to us."

"This incident I know to be true. The General regretted very much afterwards that our pickets had not fired upon the murderers."

The Effect of Peace.

The effect of peace on the Southern Confederacy is thus summed up by the Charleston Courier:

What will be the effect of peace, whenever it does come, upon all who are effected by this war, is clear so far as these States are concerned; but to all others full of interest and doubt. With us, those who have gone to the field will return to the pursuits they have forsaken. The resumption of these is at once beneficial to them and to their country. Although many new enterprises have been excited by the war, there are but few which will necessarily expire with its close. The factories of various kinds which have been put in operation, the preparations which have been made for arms and munitions of war, the building of ships and other vessels, will all experience in the new necessities of our Confederation an ample field for their complete development. It is one of the chiefest blessings of that peace which will be vouchsafed unto us, that when it is declared the passions which war excites will be instantly calmed; while the revenge of the enemy will long live to teach us how careful we should be of that freedom, which cost us so much to secure.

Our Victory at Murfreesboro.

A correspondent of the Mobile Advertiser in speaking of our late victory at Murfreesboro, writes thus concerning the matter:

So far as our victory over the enemy is concerned at Murfreesboro, it is complete, and may be considered the greatest battle of the war, viewing the disparity in numbers, for we really had not 25,000 troops on the field, and drove back over 75,000 of the best troops that the enemy had, being principally Western men, who are far superior to the Yankees of the North. The immense number of wagons and stores destroyed, property burnt, with 5,000 stand of arms, nearly 40 pieces of cannon and over 5,000 prisoners captured, certainly gives us the privilege of claiming a glorious victory. As to our falling back at the same time the enemy did, it is rather a good joke, but it must be remembered that our men had been eight days and nights on the open field, without shelter, and exposed to heavy rains and freezing weather, besides fighting night and day, and they had become exhausted to such a degree that prudence at least demanded that they should be withdrawn instead of hazarding the loss of our army, which would have been a calamity from which we could not have recovered. We have suffered nither the disgrace of defeat nor that of being driven from our position, however much our soliers may have regretted to leave their dearly won battle field, but this was truly a military necessity of choice, and not of compulsion.

As it is, our world-renowned braves are in as good spirits as ever—nothing can daunt them—and they are ready for another passage at arms, where the foe again may dare to make the attempt. The battle of Murfreesboro is one over which our confederacy may rejoice, and the valor, heroism, and unparallelled bravery and fortitude of our troops should create universal admiration, and give to our people a confidence and self-reliance unknown before—an enthusiasm, patriotism, and determination to be free, that can never be driven to despair, even should a hundred abolition Lincoln governments assail us, and twice the Yankee hordes be brought against us. Let every man cheer up and rejoice, take new hope, courage, and confidence.

The Fate of Exiles.

It is announced (says the Richmond Whig,) that a copy of President Davis' Message to Congress was placed in the hands of the Federal Commissioner Ludlow, at City Point, on Thursday afternoon last, and that no sooner had he read it than steam was raised, and the Commissioner started at once for Fortress Monroe. The avowal of the President regarding the disposition of Yankee officers heretofore captured, it is conjectured, had much to do with this sudden departure. Seven hundred Yankee prisoners were to have been sent from Richmond to City Point and released on parole yesterday morning, but Commissioner Ould ascertained that there was no truce boat there to receive them, and they will consequently be retained until such time as the Abolition Government may signify its readiness to proceed with negotiations.

Funeral Notice.

The friends and acquaintances of the late MRS. ELISABETH CHATTON and of the REV. G. D. Bernheim and family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral of the former at the Episcopal Church, Charlotte, this day at 11 o'clock.

Report of Charlotte Hospital,

FOR THE LAST SIX MONTHS, ENDING JANUARY 1ST, 1863.

R. K. GREGORY, Surg'n in Charge

Since the establishment of this institution, for the care of our sick and wounded soldiers, a great number of those who have been furloughed to visit their homes have found here a resting place, together with the necessary medical aid, which though so much needed had not been procured.—Many have been received here, as we all must have seen, in a perfectly destitute condition. Their wants have been supplied by the very liberal contributions of our Ladies Soldiers Aid Society, both of this place and Steel Creek, together with many contributions from our citizens and those of the surrounding country. Not only have North Carolinians shared these luxuries, but those also from nearly every State in the Confederacy, and the names of some of our citizens will ever be remembered by them for the many kindnesses shown them during their sojourn. Let us all ask what have I done in behalf of these destitute sick and wounded men. If we have done much let us not weary in so good a cause. Some I must admit will blush with shame, those too that are most able to contribute largely. The names of so many of our citizens who have done so much in behalf of these men are sufficiently well known to the public, and I have omitted them as I have not permission to put them in print.

P. S.—To our friend, the Editor of the BULLETIN, we are under many obligations.

The Town of Lincolnton has long been proverbial for its healthiness. It has daily Railroad communication with Charlotte, from which it is only two hours distant. For the benefit of pupils from sickly sections, our long vacation is in the winter.

Besides the necessary public rooms, the building furnishes accommodations for about sixty boarding pupils.

We pay very especial attention to the elementary branches of education. Every pupil of the School, however far advanced, is required to take Arithmetic, Spelling, Grammar, and Composition, as regular studies.

The fact that we have semiannual classes enables us to enforce a higher standard of scholarship than is usual in the best institutions conducted on the ordinary annual plan.

We send home at the middle and the end of each session a deportment, scholarship, and punctuality of each pupil.

The School is a private enterprise, being in no wise under the patronage or influence of any sect or denomination. Each pupil is allowed to attend Sunday School in her own church.

The funds for the support of the Charlotte Wayside Hospital are exhausted.
